School Meet At McGregor

The annual Lake McGregor track meet at Arrowwood, Queens-town, Milo and Majorsville schools was held June 6. Keen competition was evidenced in all classes and events. Arrowwood won the shield for the second consecutive year, and Marjorie Steiner and Janus Norton, both of Arrowwood, were presented with the aggregate cups for the girl or boy winning the greatest number of points. Medals were presented to the one winning the greatest number of points in each class. The class winners were as follows:

This photograph taken in Gatineau Point, Que., where residents of that area have to use rowboats to navigate the floodwaters which surround their homes, is reminiscent of a typical Venice scene.

Vulcan Teams Win And Lose In Week's Baseball

More than half the scheduled games in the Wheatbelt Baseball League have been played and Champions still leads the league, having lost but one game so far.

Wednesday, June 15, the Carmanagay club defeated the local team by a one run margin, the final score being Carmanagay 9, Vulcan 8. The same day Barons and Champion tangled at the latter town in a closely fought contest, with Champion getting the winning run in the last half of the ninth to eke out a 5-4 victory.

On Sunday last, the Vulcanites turned on the pressure to defeat Barons by a wide margin, the final score being Vulcan 12, Barons 3. At Champion, the visiting Carmanagay team handed the league leaders their first defeat of the season, with a final score of Carmanagay 9, Champion 7.

The Vulcan junior baseball team completely outclassed the Arrowwood team in two contests last week. At Arrowwood on Tuesday the Vulcan boys won by an easy 13 to 1 score. Batteries were Graham and Wishlow for Arrowwood and Campbell and Kehr for Vulcan. In the return game at Vulcan on Thursday the locals overwhelmed the visitors from Arrowwood by 22 runs to 3. Sherran and Wishlow formed the Arrowwood battery and Majakey and Kehr the Vulcan battery. Catcher Max Kehr suffered a smashed finger which will keep him from behind the plate for a while.

The Nanton juniors played here on Sunday and won by a 9-7 score after a keenly contested nine innings. Campbell and Majakey pitched for Vulcan and Clark replaced Kehr as catcher.

Champion O.E.S. Mark Anniversary

Champion Chapter No. 36 of the O.E.S. celebrated their 27th birthday anniversary on June 19 in the community hall. The Masons and their ladies were the invited guests and Rev. Peter Dawson presided as master of ceremonies.

A skit, "The Masons Meet," was an hilarious parody of what the "stars" think the Masons do at their lodge meetings. Bingo and other entertainment was provided throughout the evening with prizes awarded to winners.

A sumptuous banquet, the kind Champion Chapter is noted for, was served in the banquet room. The place-cards bore the colors of the Order and cut flowers in silver holders adorned the long tables. A beautifully decorated two-tiered birthday cake with lighted candles graced the head table, which was presided over by Mrs. Peter Dawson, present Worthy Matron, and Mr. George Orr, first Worthy Patron of Champion Chapter. A few brief speeches were given before the enjoyable evening came to a close.

June Weddings Of Interest

WARD—SHAW

A wedding of interest in Vulcan and district was solemnized by Father D. D. McDonald at a double ring ceremony at St. Theresa's Church, Ottawa, on Monday, June 2nd, when Marion Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shaw, became the bride of Melvin John Ward of Ottawa.

For the wedding the bride chose a street length plumed dress of white wool with a sweetheart neckline accented with a necklace of pearls, a white halo hat with shoulder length veil with matching white accessories. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses and she carried a white prayer book. The bridesmaid, Miss Helen Carriere of Ottawa, wore yellow eyeclet with white accessories. Her corsage was of Talisman roses and she also carried a white prayer book. The groom was attended by his twin brother, Milton.

After a light wedding breakfast at the Lord Elgin Hotel, the bridal couple left on a short trip to Toronto. On their return they are making their home in Ottawa, where Mr. Ward is employed in the National Research Council.

HOLM—STEWART

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at 2 p.m. on June 18 at Central United Church, Calgary, when Doreen Elva Stewart, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Stewart of Champion, and Theodore Benjamin Holm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Holm of Kuskonook, E.C., were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. Andrew Lawson officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a dove grey dressmaker suit with white accessories. A corsage of red roses and stephanotis completed her ensemble.

Mrs. R. Connelly, matron of honor, chose a queen's blue dressmaker suit and black accessories, with corsage of pink rosebuds. The groom was attended by Mr. F. Bouzyan. The wedding dinner was served at the Club Cafe.

For travelling to Banff and points in B.C., where the honeymoon will be spent, the bride donned a wine cloth coat with nail-head trim over her wedding ensemble. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Holm will take up residence on the groom's farm in the Champion district.

Interesting Meeting Good Deeds W.I.

Seventeen members and three visitors were present at the June meeting of Good Deeds W.I., held at the home of Mrs. Messerli.

Mrs. E. E. Andrews gave a splendid report on the convention held in Calgary. It was decided to send $10 for the overseas delegate, Mrs. Morton. Mrs. Messerli gave an interesting reading on "What will they do next with glass." Roll call was answered with bright sayings of children.

Several quilt blocks were turned in for a quilt which will be raffled and bundles of used clothing were made up to be sent in for distribution. Mrs. Jessie Andrews was chosen as delegate to the conference at Champion, June 24.

Gifts were presented to the four lady members with birthdays in June: Mrs. Etta Clark, Mrs. A. G. Spaeth, Mrs. James Lucas and Mrs. Wm. Lucas. Baby Wayne Lucas was presented with a baby spoon.

Lunch was served by Mrs. G. Pearce and Mrs. H. I. Montgomery. The August meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Lyman.

Obituary

Mrs. Fred (Alice Maud) Alcock, old-time resident of Champion, died on Sunday, June 22, at her home.

Born in 1864 at Ripley, Derbyshire, England, Mrs. Alcock came to the Champion district in 1909 to join her husband who had preceded her to Canada four years earlier. She was well known throughout the province for her activities as a member of the Women's Institute. Constituency Convener for five consecutive years, she was director of District No. 4 for the following four years, during which time she never missed a meeting. The infirmities of age necessitated her retirement from an active role for the past few years. Mrs. Alcock celebrated her 83rd birthday last week.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Duane (May) Chamberlain, one granddaughter, Mrs. Russell (Phyllis) Hegland, and two great-granddaughters, all of Champion, and one brother, Bert Buckland, of London, England. Her husband predeceased her in 1939.

Rev. Peter Dawson conducted funeral services at the Champion United Church on Tuesday, June 24, at 3:30 p.m., and interment was made in the family plot at the Champion cemetery. Pallbearers were J. McDougall, F. Wise, Oscar Hagg, S. Cowgill, O. Smith and J. Corson.

The sympathy of their many friends is extended to the family.

Willow Creek, west of Nanton, is a popular fishing ground these days and many parties of local fishermen have returned home with very good catches.

Baseball Tournament To Feature Dominion Day Celebration

The annual Elks' Celebration at Vulcan on Dominion Day, July 1st, is an event that is looked forward to and well attended by town and district residents each year and a high standard of entertainment is again lined up for this year.

Feature event of the day will be the baseball tournament between the four teams of the Wheatbelt League—Champion, Vulcan, Carmanagay and Barons—competing for a total of $15.00 in purses. The first game is scheduled for 1 p.m. sharp.

In the morning the two peeewee teams, Pirates and Giants, will tangle at 10:30 o'clock, and a ladies' softball tournament will be in swing at the same time as the baseball tournament. Team entries for the ladies' softball should be sent in to the secretary, B.P.O. Elks, Vulcan, as soon as possible and not later than June 30.

Bicycle races and sports of all kinds for the children will always be a popular feature of the Elks Celebrations and provision has again been made for good cash prizes for all children's athletic events.

There will be refreshment booths on the grounds and the day will wind up with a big dance at night in the I.O.O.F. hall.

Admission price to the grounds has been kept down to the same nominal figure as last year and all children under 14 years of age will be admitted free.

Proceeds are for the Elks Memorial Park project which got under way this spring.

Butter is now up 2 cents a pound but the dairy farmers of Canada are calling for a definite floor price.

Mrs. P. Weber New President Home and School Association

The annual meeting of the Home and School Association was held in the St. Aldhelm's church hall Friday evening with a good attendance of members. Among business matters discussed was that of the purchase of a projection machine for use in the Vulcan schools. Following reports of members of the school staff and others of the Home and School Association, who had seen the machine in operation, and the many benefits to be derived by the students from use of the machine, a motion was passed that the Association bear part of the purchase cost.

Mrs. D. Jantzie, acting as chairman, declared the meeting open for nominations of officers for the coming year. She prefaced the nominations by stressing the very useful part the Home and School plays in assisting both the staff and pupils. She also complimented the teachers most highly on the efforts they had put forth during the past year toward greater understanding between themselves and the students, saying the inclusion into their course of study subjects of a divergent nature tended, she felt, to stimulate the young people's interest.

Results of the election were as follows: President, Mrs. P. Weber; vice-president, Mrs. A. Whitesides; secretary, Mrs. E. G. Hansell (re-elected); honorary president, Mrs. Blanche Collier. Conveners of standing committees were also named.

Mrs. F. J. Mensinger, who had acted as official delegate to the recent convention at Olds gave a highly interesting report, which was much enjoyed.

The next meeting will be held in September.

Snake Valley Officers Elected

The Snake Valley Junior U.F.A. held its annual meeting June 11th, with the following officers being elected: President, Doug. Smith, vice-president, Einar Kumlin; secretary, Roy McIntyre with Allen Sinclair and Lorne Healy being appointed as supervisors.

It was decided to have the Juniors support the softball team financially with the collection to be taken up at each home game, to assist with buying of equipment, etc.

The next meeting will be held July 16th at the Reid Hill hall.

THE WEATHER

Warm, bright days interspersed with heavy showers of rain has characterized the weather for the past week and crops are making splendid growth after a very late start.

Peeewee Baseball League Formed

In line with the Athletic Association's policy of developing and promoting junior sports in Vulcan, a sand-lot baseball league has been formed in Vulcan under the direction of Gordon Clayton, John Jamison and Gordon Cranston.

The peeewee league, for boys aged 14 and under, is away to a good start with two teams already formed—the Pirates and the Giants—and great enthusiasm is being shown by the youngsters.

In the first game the Pirates defeated the Giants 18 to 13. The second game showed great improvement by both teams and the Pirates took an 8 to 6 victory after a hard fought battle.

Girl Killed By Falling Rock

Struck by a big rock while watching motorcycle contests at Great Falls, Montana, Miss Norma J. C. LaFontaine, Calgary, was fatally injured on Sunday, her 26th birthday. She died on Monday in a Great Falls hospital.

Press reports indicate that Miss LaFontaine and her fiancé, Wallace Humphrey of High River, were seated along the runway when a rock a foot in diameter was dislodged by the racers and struck the girl in the back and head. She never regained consciousness.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael LaFontaine of Calgary, she was well known in Vulcan, having been born at Lomond and living most of her life around Vulcan. A brother, Francis LaFontaine, farms just north of town.

Shower

Mrs. Archie Hay, nee Pat Kilpatrick, was the guest of honor at a most enjoyable miscellaneous shower held at the Lawrence home Wednesday afternoon last, when Mrs. Lawrence and her mother, Mrs. G. Phillips, were joint hostesses.

The 15 guests spent a pleasant social hour after which Mrs. Lawrence, on behalf of those assembled presented Mrs. Hay with a daintily decorated basket, filled with many lovely and useful gifts. Assisting the bride in opening the attractively wrapped presents was Mrs. Roger Middleton.

The afternoon concluded with the serving of a delicious lunch by the hostesses.

Mrs. Hay very suitably thanked all of her friends for their kindness and good wishes.

Correction

In last week's Advocate there was a misprint in the scores of the double-header baseball game played at Brant on June 15. Brant won both games, 11-6 and 10-8, not Blackie as was printed.

WEEDY LAND CASE

AN interesting case was called to public attention last week when the Municipal District of Wetaskiwin applied to the Supreme Court for an order restraining a district farmer from farming two quarters of his 10½ quarter section farm. It was claimed that the two quarters in question were badly infested with weeds. The farmer in turn asked for an order to restrain the municipal district from entering on his land.

This is the first court action arising out of the Alberta Service Board Act of 1945 which was passed to permit municipal districts to take over the farming of lands which the Agricultural Board considered to be improperly farmed.

According to the claim of the Municipal District the farmer had been notified repeatedly that he must eradicate the weeds on the land in question, and had been given every opportunity to discuss his plans for the two quarters before the Agricultural board. The farmer claims the board took possession without giving him a chance to present his case.

Judgment was reserved in first hearing, but the case will be something of a test of the Act. Restraining action is new in Alberta so far as an implementing law is concerned, but force of public opinion has often had corrective influence in the past. In Britain however, there have been laws in force for some time, and acted upon, in respect to inefficient farming. Born out of war necessity for peak production and maximum efficiency, the British laws are said to be quite ruthless in displacing an incompetent farmer with one who will operate capably.

The relationship between a landowner or tenant and the land by which he lives has been interpreted in the past in an easy going way. But sentiment is changing and there is strengthening conviction that land should be husbanded, not mined. It should be turned to wisest production, not exhausted nor allowed to run waste. It should not be neglected until weedy growth becomes a menace to clean farms round about. In short, the land which is the basis of all national prosperity is merely held in trust by the current occupant and must be maintained in its fertility and strength from generation to generation.

That should be the long term view of land ownership and cultivation. There should be laws preventing misuse of land, and there should be means by which the good farmer can be protected from carelessness of the neglectful farmer. A man who allows his land to revert to weedy waste, infesting other land, and who persists in the practice despite warnings, should not expect too much consideration. He is sinning against his neighbors and against the land itself.

In making a law such as the Agricultural Service Board Act effective, authority must be exercised. If such authority is administered fairly and impersonally, there should not be any great resentment. The idea of "land held in trust for the future" is not new. It is time it was acted upon.

Pertinent Topics

Discussed by H.C.

If you would assess free enterprise as against government initiative, give a thought to immigration. When urged to pursue a vigorous immigration policy in the United Kingdom, the Ministers here are ready with the answer that transportation offers a major obstacle. When a Liberal M.P. who is a manufacturer wants a hundred Polish girls he flies them over, and credits the government only with an assist in passing an order in Council which enabled him to get the girls over without infringing alien labor laws. And that O. in C. was passed while parliament was in session.

The long hard winter has passed and no one has told of the church near Ottawa which was particularly cold one Sunday morning. When he had returned home, one man, who was asked what the preacher's text was replied "Many are cold but few are frozen."

The President has ordered steel workers not to go on strike for two years. You are wrong if you think it was President Truman who issued the order. It was President Murray of the C.I.O. Such an order from President Truman would have no effect.

Since Britain and the United States find they have to have conscription in peace time, the Canadian government is confronted by a disturbing condition. It would not be influenced by the British example, but how can it avoid being affected by the American example? Whatever the menace may be to one it admittedly applies to the other and both have entered into agreements for a defence and for similarity of weapons. Not only that, but the Prime Minister has committed Canada to defend the United States against attack through this country. If the U.S. feels that conscription is necessary for them how can we neglect so great a safeguard?

There's method behind Russia's delaying tactics in the conferences. It was not for nothing that Molotov made such unreasonable demands on Austria that the other powers could not accept them. He made them unreasonable for that reason. If the Austrian treaty had been consummated the Russian army would have no excuse for staying in Hungary. Its mission had not been completed, but it is finished now. A Communist regime has been installed in Hungary by strong-arm tactics.

The Hungarian coup bears some resemblance to the Austrian Anschluss after the murder of Dollfuss and the imprisonment of Schuschnigg on Hitler's orders. The Hungarian Premier, learning that he was to be arrested, charged with betraying democracy, if you please, fled to Switzerland and was succeeded by the Communist whom he had made his Minister of War, thus sealing his own fate by putting a Red in command of the army. He has maintained silence ever since because he has a son still in Hungary. The Canadian League for Soviet Friendship may recall that Hitler too made use of hostages.

She is pursuing the same tactics in the far East. On the ground that there is no peace signed yet with Japan, she keeps her armies in Korea, contrary to a promise recently made to General Marshall. She is behind the Communist forces harassing General Chiang Kai Chek. She is behind Marshall Tito and the irregulars from Yugoslavia and Albania who are disturbing Greece. Her emissaries are working under Soviet direction in Italy and France. She is not signing peace treaties when she stands to gain so much by keeping the world in turmoil.

In a speech in Winnipeg, Trygve Lie, Secretary General of the United Nations, declared that peace was assured because war is unthinkable. What a profession of faith to come from a man who survived two unthinkable wars! Another reason he gave is equally inane, viz. that "the people of the world will not stand for another war." The only instrument the people of the world can use to that end is the United Nations and he ought to know by this time how impotent it is—ordained from the start to be impotent by the veto power desired and assigned for that purpose by the nation that made him secretary.

Equally fatuous is his statement that "the world must insist that the great powers continue to seek agreement until agreement is found." This surely is a full confession of futility, for he must know that the only way, the world can insist is through his own organization. What he is doing is shifting the responsibility back to the people who placed that responsibility upon him and his associates of the United Nations. If the world must do it, why the U.N.? Why Trygve Lie? Mr. Lie's notion of war prevention is like Coldwell's idea of preventing another depression—it cannot be because it must not be.

Another war would, like the others, be unspeakable, but surely it is not unthinkable, when the practices used by Germany to start the latest war are being pursued by a more powerful though less efficient aggressor.

M. J. Coldwell told the provincial C.C.F. convention in Quebec that Premier Duplessis is aiding Communism. But the Reds are thankful and chances are that Coldwell himself will get a hundred of their votes to Duplessis' one.

By resolution the Canterbury Convocation calls for a revision of the Bible. One of the Ten Commandments is ripening toward a change which will make it read: "Five days shalt thou labor."

The Churchill Bell at the Canadian bend of the Rainbow bridge at Niagara Falls has fallen victim to the reticence of three Cabinet Ministers. Some one had the happy idea of inscribing on

The Hon. Mr. Chevrier who

RAISE THE PRICE

When the Government set the price of wheat to our farmers at $1.35, Canada's price to all countries except Great Britain was $2.05. Now Canada's price to these countries is $2.80. Should not, therefore, the $1.35 to farmers be increased?

"DESIRE TO SERVE--PLUS ABILITY"

"Keeno" Is A Wonder Horse

Allie Streeter's horse "Keeno" is the hero of an interesting article in the June "Canadian Cattleman" written by Grant MacEwan of Winnipeg.

"Keeno" says the writer "reached the venerable age of 19 years before he went far enough from the home range to enter even a local horse show competition. It was then that his name first appeared in print, but only a short time later he was hailed as the Greatest Cutting Horse in the Canadian Cattle Kingdom."

"His special classification was 'cutting horse' and cutting horses represent the highest order to which a cowboy's mount can aspire. It takes brains and training experience, and to a cattle rancher a good cutting horse is worth his weight in gold."

"The sire of this famous gelding was the thoroughbred Vance Cuard on the Sharples ranch at Claresholm. On the maternal side was Mustang, and her mother in turn was an old Blackfoot Indian mare. The blood of a most highly specialized English breed mingled with the ancient Spanish horse stock of the N. American plains. The thoroughbred had speed and quality and the Mustang strain had hardiness, surefootedness and intelligence. Keeno inherited much of the best from both strains."

"He was foaled in 1927, and in the regular course of events the Streeter three-year-olds were broken to saddle and Keeno got his first lessons with the other colts. Until Keeno reached his twentieth year nobody except the Streeter boys had ever thrown a leg over Keeno's back."

"From the first Allie Streeter suspected that he had a wonder horse, but he was more interested in routine ranch work than in showing records. Always Keeno his share of the thinking where cattle were being handled. He was quick on the turn and too good for the critters that thought they could cut back on him."

"When the 19-year-old horse was taken to the Nanton show in 1946 it was the farthest he had ever been from home and he didn't care for horse show proceedings. But he won the Stock Horse class and the cutting contests.

Streeter's friends urged him to take the horse to the big Stock Show at Denver. Allie wasn't convinced that the horse could do anything in such noted competition. But on Jan. 2, 1947, Allie Streeter and Hal Sears loaded the old horse in a trailer and headed south. "Keeno was on wheels for the first time in his life. Nothing could be more objectionable than leaving his beloved foothills and travelling 40 miles an hour. He was nervous, worried and mad. But after days of travel he recovered from nervousness and arrived in Denver 48 hours before the contests were to start."

"First the eliminations with 26 or 27 of the best stock horses on this continent. Eliminations reduced the field to 18 with Streeter and Keeno still in. During the two minute period in which each contestant performed consideration was given to the number of head of stock he cut out, his way of going and reining. Most of the horses entered in this Big League competition are trained primarily for the show events."

"Keeno was not trained for show events, but was getting on. Eliminations were reduced to 12 then to eight. The Alberta cowboy and horse were in the race when the eight best were singled out. There was just one trouble and it prevented Keeno from going much further. The old horse had probably worked more cattle than any other two horses in the show, but he had never had so many enthusiastic spectators and he became stage shy. Every time the crowd clapped, Keeno would look up and when a man or a horse takes his mind off his work, the work may suffer."

"Keeno placed seventh, but under circumstances it was one of the most notable triumphs in the history of these sturdy little horses which carry stock saddles. And when Keeno and Allie Streeter returned to Nanton, ranchers, farmers and townsmen united at a big banquet to do them honor. A presentation was made in honor of the event."

"Back home on the range Keeno was ready to forget the bright lights and high living. There was work to do. And as I write this Allie Streeter reminds me that Keeno who is 20 years old this spring is as sound as a bullet and still likes to buck a little when you first get on him."

Conditions In U.S. and Here

You Get More For Your Products Across the Line, But Money Doesn't Bring as Much as Here

(From High River Times)

Commenting on what he observed in a recent trip through Western States, Guy Weadick says "Although people get a lot more for their products across the line, they are paying a lot more for what they need. I would say that we are really better off here than they are over there. I think on the whole we get more value for our money."

Mr. Weadick made passing reference to the much higher prices paid for meals in restaurants compared with current prices in this country. And in this connection he said: "I hope that restaurants over here don't get the idea of raising their prices just because meals are high in the States. Be content with modest profit, and give tourists a happy memory of good meals at reasonable rates. They'll know pretty quick if they are being 'stuck' and that won't be so good in the long run."

In their tour across the States Mr. and Mrs. Weadick ran into a surprising number of people who are Canada-conscious. A good many had been in armed services in Canada during war years, or had been on missions in northern Alberta. They all seemed to have a good word for Canadians and Canada, and are certainly potential tourist business. Much interest in United States centres round Edmonton as the Gateway to the north, and a strategic point in its relation to Siberian Russia and the Orient.

Politics

Americans seem very politically minded, and are uneasy under all the developing tie-up with world affairs though they admit this is inevitable. Those whom he met seemed to consider Britain and Canada the only real U.S. allies. Business men are keeping their eyes on July 15, when the Bretton Woods arrangements come up again. They are on the look-out for the possibility of some monetary upset.

President Truman appears to be going up in public regard just now. At the moment Dewey seems to be an outstanding man in the opinion of Republicans. But everyone is very cautious in making predictions as to future political developments.

Cost of Living — Subsidies

Nothing is rationed now in United States but sugar, and the majority of restaurant operators say they have found that there is less waste and more economy in just leaving the sugar bowl on the table.

Woollen clothing does not seem up to the Canadian standard, particularly in men's wear and is more expensive. All clothing, however, is clearly marked with the percentage of cotton in it, and there is usually plenty. Cotton goods are cheaper than here. Black shoes have just started coming on the market. Tan has been predominating till lately. Fancy clothing really hits high spots. For example cowboy shirts trimmed up and designed for due ranch trade run up to $65 or $70.

In household groceries, there are some things scarce here that are more easily available through the States. Soap powders for instance are plentiful. Rice, which has been gone from Canadian store shelves for a long time, can be picked up any place and in any quantity. Miracle Whip is visible in quantity. And wonder of wonders, the unequalled Lea and Perrin's sauce, which has been gone for a long time, but not forgotten, was found in a little U.S. town.

However, the public is worried about inflation, the high cost of living, the many shortages and the generally unsettled atmosphere. Stockmen over in the States do not favor subsidies. They think people are paying high for everything and should pay well for their meat. If things are allowed to take a natural course and find their level, it is believed that there will be less disruption than if an industry depends on subsidies. The tendency is to take off subsidies at a time when prices are dropping and it would hurt.

Foreign Loans

There is quite a diversity of opinion on the wisdom of bolstering so many different countries with loans. There is much difference of opinion for example on the Greek loan and the results that may be realized.

There is quite a body of opinion in United States reasoning that Russia doesn't want war right now but does want to control all adjacent territories. Why not let Russia take over these Communistically inclined countries, and give them a real taste of Communism. Let these countries see whether Communism as imposed by Russia is the answer. There is a great fear that Russia will welcome all the money and effort that United States is expending to build up European countries. Then when they are on their feet—at U.S. expense—they may still be impregnated with Communism, and will make much richer pickings for Russia than they are in their present impoverished state. Let Russia do the rebuilding, say these people, and prove to sympathetic countries that Communist standards of living are tougher than they ever dreamed. They're afraid the outpouring of loans is a case of money badly misspent, at a time when the national economy is none too solid.

"This may be a curious viewpoint to Canadians," says Mr. Weadick, "but you find it continually cropping up across the line. They believe the only real allies they can depend on are Canada and Britain. They know that the days of isolationism are over, and they must take a leading part in world affairs. But they are terribly afraid that such loans as are made to Greece are going to result in ultimate benefit to Russia, not in achieving permanent strength for democracy."

Average price of steers at Chicago on June 20 reached a record high of $26 per cwt.

Canada is now likely to give up sugar rationing for a long time. There is lots of sugar in the country at the present time being held for future use. The per capita allotment this year is 80 lbs. which is 9 lbs. better than last year but still considerably below normal.

The majority of Canadians do not favor compulsory voting according to a recent Gallup poll. There were 51% of those questioned who did not approve imposing a fine for not voting.

MAKING BETTER IMPLEMENTS

Through 100 Years..

This type of mower was built at the Massey works as early as 1852.

ABOUT 1820 a mower was invented with a circular cutting blade which revolved against the grain, apparently imitating the action of the old scythe blade.

A few years later a mower was invented in the United States which had a sharp knife with teeth moving sideways in a row of iron fingers or guards. The first mower of this type to be made in Canada was produced in 1852 at the Massey works, the little plant which has grown into the Massey-Harris industry of today. And all through its 100-year history this company has been a leader in developing labor-saving farm devices.

The use of modern Massey-Harris farm machines has brought many benefits to Canadian farmers. The Massey-Harris Side Rake and Tedder turns the hay into light, fluffy windrows, so the air can cure it quickly. The Massey-Harris Hay Loader builds a load of well over a ton in twenty minutes. The Massey-Harris Forage Harvester enables a farmer to cut hay at the right time—providing nutritious forage for livestock.

Massey-Harris machines mean speedy, large-scale production. They have reduced production costs per acre and have increased the farmer's yearly profit.

Turner Valley Bottled Gas

It is possible that bottled gas now being imported from across the line may eventually be produced from the Turner Valley output. Propane is a by-product of oil fields.

J. E. Barber of Calgary, has been negotiating with a valley oil company for supplies of the gas, and also for supplies of the sheet steel to manufacture the gas cylinders, truck tanks and storage tanks. Mr. Barber has a plant out in Manchester district for manufacture of heavy machinery and repair of heavy oil well equipment. He was an oilfield engineer before coming to Alberta and operated a repair plant at Turner Valley before establishing himself at Calgary.

His plan is to provide farm homes with a pair of the propane cylinders full of the gas. The tanks feed gas to stoves, water heaters, refrigerators, etc., and when one cylinder is emptied, the other is turned on, and the empty taken to a distribution centre to be exchanged for a full cylinder.

APRICOTS

Now In For Canning

From information we are able to gather, the B.C. Pack of Apricots will fall away short of meeting ordinary requirements. For this reason the Government authorizes Canada to import this fruit from U.S. but the quantity is limited.

We have U.S. No. 1 Moorpack apricots 14 lb. lugs — excellent quality and ready for cooking.
